Movie Star

Movie stars have to do a lot of talking when they are involved in a movie. So, they have to practice their talking lines so they can remember their movie lines. When movie stars practice their lines, they have a director who coaches them and teaches them the best way to say their movie lines. Movie stars are also very nice to their directors when the directors are coaching them with their movie lines.

I can be just like my favorite movie stars when I work on my talking skills with my speech therapist. My speech therapist is just like a movie director who coaches me with appropriate ways to communicate with my peers.

I can be just like a movie star at school when I do these three things:

1. Walk to the speech therapist's room when my name is called
2. Practice all the talking skills with my speech therapist
3. Be polite to the speech therapist

Now go practice your talking skills so you can be just like your favorite movie stars!
